Fifth Army In Italy Increases Hold On Massico

Foothold On San Groce Mountain Is Also Secured By Allies

FIVE MILE ADVANCE IS MADE BY ALLIES

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALGIERS, Nov. 3.—The Allied Fifth Army in Italy increased its hold on Mount Massico and seized a foothold on San Groce mountain today in the drive to smash the western flank of the German defense line guarding Rome.

The army under command of Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark gained positions giving them a complete view of the Nazi Garigliano river positions to the north.

At the eastern end of the trans-peninsular battlefront the British Eighth Army increased its pressure on the Nazis and scored some advances.

The right wing of the Fifth Army at the center of the 90-mile battle line captured Gallo, Pratta, and Pratello in an advance all along their sector after breaking through the German Matese mountain line anchor.

Advance Five Miles

In sweeping forward to the San Croce ridge near the western end of the line the Fifth Army advanced five miles north of the captured road junction of Teano. The town of Carinola also was occupied.

The Eighth Army forces near the Adriatic side of Italy solidified their positions in two good bridgeheads over the Trigno river.

The Fifth Army advances threatened to totter the German line all the way from Mount Massico northeast to Venafro. British troops on the left wing and American artillery on the right moved up to within range of Venafro, key defense point in the Nazi line.

At the Trigno river, Allied artillery and infantry in the Massico region was forcing Germans to retreat hurriedly. In an earlier broadcast the United Nations transmitter said American units already were shelling Venafro.

(The Nazi-controlled Rome radio reported that a large formation of American and British naval forces yesterday attempted to approach the city.)

PA NEW OBSERVES

Dreariness and drizzles may not make pleasant weather, but today's day that looked like good game-hunting to sportsmen.

Judging from the returns from the various precincts of the county in Tuesday's election, a large number of the voters failed to mark the amendment vote. There was a much lower vote total on the amendment than in other contests.

Because of the lack of contests for many of the offices voted on in Tuesday's election, Tuesday night proved an exceedingly quiet one for "election night." Light interest was exhibited in the results of the day's voting.

In every election there appears to be one election precinct somewhere in the city or county, where the board can't make the pace of the others. The same was true this morning. One precinct in the county was the last turned in, and it was an hour or more after all of the other 99 had been reported at the court house.

Don't waste food. Food is mighty important in the present world conflict. Do your part to prevent any waste of the food supply.

Democrats Have Pittsburgh Lead

Allegheny County Vote Shows Most Contests Won By Democrats

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 3.—Allegheny county today remained the Gibraltar of the Democratic party in Pennsylvania on the strength of late election returns, but lost a little ground to Republicans who apparently have won at least two important offices.

The Democrats swept to victory with their entire county judicial ticket except one place in the county court. They re-elected John J. Kane and George Rankin, Jr., as county commissioners, and the minority Republican, John S. Herron, was also re-elected.

The Republicans appeared to have elected Russell Adams as district attorney over Democratic State Senator John Fremont Cox; and it seemed that Robert G. Woodside (R.) had defeated D. Lee Pryde for county controller.

SAMUEL IS WINNER IN BATTLE FOR MAYOR

PHILADELPHIA Nov. 3.—(INS)—Philadelphia's 62-year-old Republican rule was extended for another four years today as Acting Mayor Bernard Samuel, GOP standard bearer, beat former Ambassador William C. Bullitt by a margin of 63,258 votes.

Bullitt, running with New Deal backing, polled a total of only 279,030 votes while Samuel rolled up 342,288 with all of the city's election districts unofficially reported. Samuel carried his entire ticket with him.

Samuel swept the entire Republican ticket for the row offices with him.

Assures G. O. P. Reign

The election assured Republican reign over the city for the 66th consecutive year, with approximately 620,000 of the city's 978,771 registered voters participating in the balloting. For a span in this period, the Democratic party failed even to nominate a candidate but today's defeat was the worst suffered since the political party's reorganization ten years ago.

In the only state wide contest, the Republican incumbent, Judge Claude T. Reno, of Allentown, garnered a victory.

FEW CONTESTS IN ELLWOOD CITY

Councilmen And School Board Members Are Elected On Tuesday

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 3.—Only one real contest developed in Tuesday's general election here, Harold O. Rodgers, R., winning over Garfield Thomas, D., for council in the Fourth Ward. The vote was extremely close, Rodgers polling 201 votes to Thomas' 194.

In the only other contest, that for high constable, E. E. Frishkorn, R., defeated Pietro Curto, D., by an overwhelming vote.

Frank E. Potter and J. A. Evans, who were nominated on both the Republican and Democratic tickets for school director, were unopposed, as was George W. Kay, R., for borough auditor, and John T. Young, R., for justice of the peace.

James P. Menice, R., first ward; and Frank Bieri, D., second ward, were unopposed for council, as was David J. Jones, R., fifth ward; Fred Henderson, R., third ward; defeated Harry Caplan, in the only other councilmanic contest, by a vote of 227 to 118.

Nazi Attempt To Recross Dnieper Is Beaten Back

Moscow Report Says Germans Lose Several Thousands And Men In Effort

GREAT QUANTITIES OF BOOTY TAKEN

By NATALIE RENE (U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Nov. 3.—A large-scale Nazi effort to recross the Dnieper river has been beaten back and "several thousands" of German soldiers were killed and "great quantities of booty were captured," a Moscow communique announced today.

According to this announcement, more than 3,300 other Nazi officers and men were killed in Tuesday's fighting from the Black Sea up to the heart of the Dnieper loop.

More than 74 inhabited localities—17 of them big towns or villages—were recaptured by the Red army columns racing across the Nogais Steppe and surging up the Perekop Isthmus into the Crimea after retreating German forces.

Reach Major Crossing

By the capture of Kakhovka, the Soviets reached a major crossing of the lower Dnieper, and they plunged nearly 40 miles west from Perekop to occupy Skhadovsk on the north coast of the Black Sea. Another Soviet unit captured Bolshaya-Mayachka, only 28 miles east of Kherson, important port where the Dnieper flows into the Black Sea.

The column which took Skhadovsk appeared headed for the western tip of the Nogais peninsula in an effort not only to outflank Kherson but also the mouth of the river bug and its naval harbor of Nikolayev.

Without question the Russian drive toward the bug and Dnieper outlets was intended to cut off all possibility of escape by sea of the estimated 340,000 Nazi troops hemmed in.

Woman Is Killed Near Portersville

Mother Also Seriously Injured In Auto Accident On Tuesday Afternoon

INJURED WOMAN IN ELLWOOD HOSPITAL

Mrs. George Milan, of Mercer R. D. 6, was instantly killed Tuesday shortly after noon, and her mother, Mrs. Stella Zoric Parkovich, was seriously injured when the automobile in which they were riding skidded on the slippery road, and turned over an embankment, a mile south of Portersville, on the Perry highway.

According to reports received, Mrs. Milan was driving, and both she and her mother were on their way to a wedding in Monaca when the accident occurred. Mrs. Milan lost control of the car, which turned over the embankment.

Mrs. Parkovich was rushed to the Ellwood City hospital, where she is in a critical condition, suffering with a broken arm and internal injuries. The body of her daughter was taken to the Cunningham funeral home in Leesburg.

Mrs. Catherine Milan was born in Turtle Creek, Pa., June 17, 1907, daughter of Michael and Stella Zoric Parkovich.

For 15 years she had been married to George Milan, who survives, and for the past 12 years she lived on the Perry highway, where she and her husband were proprietors of the Perry Barbecue Inn. She was a highly respected person, and admired by all who knew her.

First Precincts To Make Reports

Repeating its usual performance of being first with returns, the election board of the second precinct of the seventh ward was first in on Tuesday night with a partial return at 8:25, twenty-eight minutes after the polls closed. The first precinct of the ward, usually a contender for top honors with the second lagged a little this time.

The first precinct of the eighth ward stepped into the "first" picture this election by being first with a complete return.

Jap Cruisers And Destroyers Fail To Halt U. S. Landings On Bougainville

ENEMY IS FORCED TO FLEE FROM SCENE

By FRANK ROBERTSON (U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Nov. 3.—A Japanese force of cruisers and destroyers which sought to interfere with American landings on the west coast of Bougainville Island was repulsed in an engagement with United States naval units in the Solomons sea, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

The sea and air battle developed when the Japs made a sortie during the night down the west coast of Bougainville. American naval forces covering the landing operation intercepted the Jap surface craft which were dispersed and forced to withdraw toward the northwest.

Every available plane was thrown into the engagement by Admiral William F. Halsey, commander of the landing operations at Empress Augusta Bay.

Repulse Air Attack

A subsequent Jap air attack on the Allied naval covering force also was successfully repulsed with minor damage.

United States marines who spearheaded the landing on Bougainville meanwhile drove inland against the Japs from a beachhead several miles long. In the evening the Japs were pushed back.

SAYS JAPS ARE TIRED OF WAR

Lack Of Victories Also Has Average Jap Badly Worried, Says Argentinian

By LESLIE STEYN (U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PORT ELIZABETH, Union of South Africa, Nov. 3.—The average Japanese is "tired of the war" and perturbed over high casualties and absence of Nipponese victories, an Argentine passenger returning aboard the exchange liner Gripsholm told International News Service today.

He was Benjamin Kopf, an Argentine citizen who was in Japan for 24 years as general manager of the Ford Motor Company.

The ordinary Japanese, he said, has not responded to the Tojo government's war propaganda.

The Gripsholm docked in Port Elizabeth after an uneventful voyage from Mormugao, Portuguese India.

The Gripsholm, which took the Americans aboard after discharging Japanese at Mormugao who are returning to the Far East, anchored in the bay shortly after dark last night. It will resume its journey some time tomorrow.

The arrival of the Gripsholm brought the passengers to the first port of all in Allied territory since they were taken prisoner by the Japanese nearly two years ago.

Hanley Emerges Victorious By Wide Margin For Lieutenant Governor

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 3.—(INS)—With a plurality in excess of 325,000 votes, Republican State Sen. Joe R. Hanley emerged victorious today over Lieut. Gen. William N. Haskell in the hotly-contested race for lieutenant-governor of New York state.

Haskell had been supported by the Democratic and American Labor parties, and even President Roosevelt. Less than three hours after the polls closed, however, the retired army officer realized his cause was lost and wired his congratulations to the colorful Hanley.

Former New York City Magistrate Thomas Aurelio had an easy victory too, in winning election to a 14-year term as a state supreme court justice despite his repudiation by both Republican and Democratic parties. Aurelio defeated his nearest opponent by a margin of 55,000 votes.

The candidates and friends subside, electioneering now is done, the votes are cast, the score is down, and now we know just which lad won. And heavy smiles adorn the maps of those who won out at the polls, and there is gloom eight inches thick on those who failed to make the goals. # Reno Is Renamed To State Court

Republicans Win In Philadelphia And Generally Throughout State

DEMOCRATS AHEAD IN ALLEGHENY CO.

By JOHN PAGET
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 3.—Most Republican candidates continued to register impressive margins today as final checks of the general election balloting neared completion.

War-time apathy to politics resulted in a light vote.

On the basis of returns from more than half of the 8161 election districts throughout the state, Republican incumbent Judge Claude T. Reno, of Allentown, appeared to have outdistanced his Democratic opponent, Philadelphia Common Pleas Judge Curtis Bok, for a 10-year term on the Superior Court bench. In 4166 districts, Reno had 693,540 votes to Bok's 510,119. A resounding defeat, however, was handed the former attorney general in Allegheny county where Democratic majorities gave Bok 108,703 votes to Reno's 85,032 with approximately half of the 1017 districts reporting. The appellate court contest was the only office filled by state-wide balloting.

In Philadelphia, Acting Mayor Bernard Samuel, Republican, swept the field and easily defeated New Deal socialist William C. Bullitt in the mayoralty test. Although all of Philadelphia's districts were unofficially reported, Samuel appeared to have swamped Bullitt with a 63,258 majority. The veteran Republican bellwether registered 342,286 votes to the former ambassador's 279,030. The Democratic party's defeat was the worst since it was revitalized 10 years ago with President Roosevelt leading the ticket. The Republican victory assured control of city hall's 19,000 jobs for another four years.

Reflecting G. O. P. registration majorities, special election returns disclosed Republican victories. D. Emmert Brumbaugh, Claysburg banker, handpicked Republican candidate, compiled a better than two to one victory over Miss Edna Marsden, Democratic treasurer of Clearfield county, for the congressional post in the 23rd district, embracing Blair, Centre and Clearfield counties.

G. O. P. Wins

In Delaware county, stronghold of G. O. P. Leader John J. McClure, Republicans easily filled the two seats in the state house of representatives. Ellwood J. Turner, of Moylan, speaker of the house from 1939 to 1941 and unsuccessful candidate for the lieutenant governor's nomination last year, captured one seat while the other was filled by William H. Milliken, Jr.

Early indications pointed to state-wide approval of a constitutional amendment transferring the authority for revising the boundaries of election districts from the courts to the general assembly.

Elsewhere in the state the Republicans topped Democratic opponents with little trouble except in isolated sections. At Harrisburg, stronghold of the G. O. P., Mayor Howard Milliken defeated the Democratic candidate by a four to one majority and overwhelmed an Independent hopeful eight to one, to lead the ticket to victory.

Luzerne county Republicans swept all county offices with two to one majorities but Democratic candidate for Mayor Con McCole, held a slim margin over Charles N. Loveland in the Wilkes-Barre mayoralty race.

Fayette county Democrats turned back Republican candidates easily. They gave Bok a better than 1600-vote edge over Reno and elected a majority of county commissioners, a district attorney and sheriff.

In Reading, former Mayor Henry T. Stump, a Socialist, defeated Harry P. Menges, Democratic candidate for mayor. Walter Freese, Republican standard-bearer, ran a poor third.

Brighton E. Diffenderfer, GOP ticket-leader, unseated Democratic Mayor George F. Eyrich in the Allentown mayoralty race.

county controller, Andrew M. Dadds; county coroner, Dr. T. F. Nugent; city treasurer, B. N. Hanlon; city councilmen, D. O. Davies and Albert W. Hoyland.

County Commissioner

Earl Wimer, Republican candidate for county commissioner, polled 10,019 votes, and George H. Bolinger, 10,482. The one fight of the day occurred in the race for the minority commissionmanship. Joseph F. "Jokey" Travers, present Democratic incumbent, was opposed by John B. Shaw. Mr. Travers exceeded the hopes of his backers, polling 6,759 votes to Mr. Shaw's 3,165. Mr. Travers carried every precinct in the city and carried the county outside the city by one vote, although he lost a number of rural precincts. Stewart Hunt, candidate of the Prohibition party, polled 1,256 votes.

New Castle Results

For Mayor of New Castle John P. Haven ran a runaway race. He polled 7,523 votes against 2,644 for A. D. Anderson, his Democratic opponent. The mayor-elect is a plastering contractor in this city, and under the first term of Mayor Charles B. Mayne was chief of police.

For school director two of the Republican candidates ran ahead of their colleagues, although all three Republicans were elected. Howard L. Reynolds, in his first time out as a candidate for political office, led the field with 7,318 votes. Daniel B. Woolcock, who has served for many years as a school director, was second with 7,196. Each had the Democratic nomination as well as the Republican. The fight for third place was closer, although Charles A. Brookover won handily over A. C. Hyde, a veteran member of the board. Mr. Brookover polled 5,966 votes against 4,785 for Mr. Hyde.

For Judge of Superior Court, Claude T. Reno, now sitting by appointment of Governor Edward Martin, polled 11,400 votes and Curtis Bok of Philadelphia polled 4,796 votes. Charles Palmer, Prohibition candidate, polled 901 votes.

The constitutional amendment carried in the county with a light vote. The votes "Yes" totaled 2271 and "No" 2174.

The tabulation of the contest of offices will be found on another page of today's News. The official count will be found to be slightly different than the totals shown, as there will be some military ballots to count. One hundred fourteen were sent out by the election board.

WILL RUN 'EM DOWN

Chief of police Willis G. McMullen today assigned several fleet-footed police to plain-clothes with instructions to catch the boys who have been damaging property in various sections.

to the UMW's district presidents, and a session of the union's 200-man policy committee is a possibility.

Reports from the coal fields indicated that few of the UMW's 540,000 members would enter the government-seized pits in the absence of definite instructions from the bushy-browed Lewis, the policy group or the signing of a new wage agreement which they have sought unsuccessfully since last March 31. There were no signs as to what progress, if any, Lewis and Ickes were making toward negotiation of a contract for the period of government operation of the mines.

Demand Settlement

It was understood that Ickes, in a conference with Charles E. Wilson, WPB executive vice-chairman, heard production chiefs demand an immediate settlement of the coal dispute and resumption of production before the output of war munitions is gravely impaired.

The mine custodian, it was said in some quarters, retorted that he was equally desirous of negotiating a contract but that his powers were restricted by the War Labor Board's position on the controversy.

No Lewis Instructions

In many areas, however, the mine workers, answered with the flat statement that their strike would be continued until a new contract is signed or Lewis orders a return to work, the president notwithstanding.

So far, Lewis has issued no instructions but he may summon the policy committee into session during the day to consider some action. The UMW president also may confer for a third time with Federal Mine Custodian Harold L. Ickes on a new wage agreement for the coal industry. Ickes was authorized to conduct the negotiations by Mr. Roosevelt.

The first new conferences produced no visible results. Ickes reportedly was disappointed at being restricted to the framework of the War Labor Board's decision on the proposed Illinois contract which was rejected because it contained a 37 1/2 cent daily wage increase.

and bombard Gaeta, 30 miles northwest of Naples. It was asserted that German coastal batteries unleashed a salvo and the Allied craft retreated behind a smoke screen.

Nazi Positions Threatened

The German Mount Massico positions were gravely threatened by an Allied thrust into Cassanova, northeast of the mountain ridge which drove the Nazis from several important positions.

Most of the Matese mountain, left flank base of the Nazi western defense, was captured by American troops under Gen. Clark.

The forceful thrusts at both ends of the Massico-Venafro line tore deep gaps into the German anchor points after the enemy was driven back in stiff fighting.

The British troops moved forward a distance of four miles in advancing into the slopes of Mount Massico to drive the Nazis from strategic high ground providing a dominating view northward to the Garigliano river.

Other troops fanned out both northeast and northwest of captured Teano, important road junction east of Massico.

The gains were scored despite continued unfavorable weather which kept the ground wet and handicapped the Allied shock troops. The advances put the Germans in the dangerous position of having to yield their right anchor.

Numerous villages and towns fell to the Allies on both flanks as the British and Americans moved forward methodically against German units fighting every forward step.

fighters to unload tons of high explosives. Huge columns of flame shot thousands of feet in the air as crewmen watched buildings collapsing in billowing clouds of smoke and dust.

On the basis of incomplete returns, at least 30 out of a force of some 75 Nazi interceptors were shot blazing out of the skies by the accurate heavy-caliber machinegun fire of the bombers' gunners.

Strings of bombs burst with devastating fury throughout the entire Messerschmitt works, the Steyr-Daimler-Puch armored vehicle works and along the edge of the Henschel locomotive tender works. The three previous Wiener Neustadt raids did not approach this one in the tonnage of bombs dropped and the accuracy attained by bombardiers was acclaimed loudly by their commanders.

In fighting which so far has resulted in comparatively light American casualties, the marines fanned out to the Piva river, south of the Koromokina river, and north and west beyond the Bareton Mission.

The total of Jap forces garrisoning the island's strongpoints is estimated somewhere in the neighborhood of 35,000 men.

Neutralize Jap Airplane

Gen. MacArthur disclosed that Allied naval and air forces had effectively neutralized all of the Jap airbases on Bougainville and in the Shortland islands prior to the landing at Empress Augusta Bay.

Just off the northern tip of Bougainville surface craft carried out a successful naval bombardment at Buaka, starting large fires at both airbases on that island.

As a result of the attacks a large three-deck Jap transport vessel was left in flames.

American and New Zealand forces which landed on Mon Island in the treasury group prior to the Bougainville landing were reported to have advanced to Malsi on the northeast coast. In one Jap counter-attack which was repulsed the enemy lost 44 dead.

On Choiseul, southeast of Bougainville, American troops supported by Allied bombers and fighters attacked and defeated a Jap force at Sangaki. The remnants of the defeated Jap force fled to the southeast after abandoning 72 dead.

Estimate 90,000 In Crimea

Russian newspaper accounts estimated that there are 90,000 Nazi combat troops in the Crimea. In addition, there are supposedly some Rumanian forces there. Also, it is estimated 250,000 axis wounded are in hospitals and sanitariums in the Crimean peninsula.

A Reuter dispatch from Moscow said that the Nazis, unable to evacuate their disabled forces from the Crimea, are shooting the more seriously wounded.

A dispatch from DNB, the German agency, said waterborne Russian forces from the Caucasus landed in the Crimea after crossing the narrow Kerch Strait, storming the beaches on the northern and southern sides of the Kerch peninsula.

There, according to the Russian communiqué, the Red army repulsed day-long counter-attacks by large Nazi panzer and infantry forces, inflicting "tremendous losses" upon the enemy.

Further east Soviet units pushing southwest from Dnepropetrovsk captured several additional localities including Nikolaevka and the railway depot of Mikolayovka.

YES, SOMETHING IS WRONG

REAR ADMIRAL MURRAY, former commander of the aircraft carrier Enterprise, has just spoken these words, which should go straight home to the heart of every worker on the home front:

"Men who have faced death and who are still face to face with death—men who have seen their shipmates blown into eternity—these men have a definite feeling that somewhere, somehow, something is wrong when the word 'strike' appears concerning any industry vital to the successful conduct of the war in which they are playing so vital a role."

The language is restrained. The speaker was evidently trying to keep his natural emotions in leash. But that he accurately expresses the feeling of our brave men on the fighting fronts no one can doubt.

A strike in any war industry certainly means that something is wrong, wickedly wrong, inexcusably wrong, whatever the cause or whoever is responsible, rightly declares the Philadelphia Inquirer.

It is a strike against the government and the American people, a strike against our soldiers on the battlefield, our daring sailors and airmen. In contending for its rights, labor must not inflict irreparable wrongs upon the country to which, in common with all patriotic citizens, it owes its unflinching support in this critical hour.

TEN U-BOAT 'NOTCHES' FOR BRAZIL

For the tenth time a Brazilian Air Force plane has sunk a Nazi U-boat off the coast of that South American country. The plane in the latest incident was manned by United States trained fliers.

The U-boat fought back with powerful anti-aircraft guns, damaging the plane, though not materially, and wounding one member of the crew. But five bombs dropped on the submarine ended the battle.

Brazil has played no unimportant part in combatting the menace of the undersea raiders off South America, both with surface naval craft and aerial patrols. This latest victory emphasizes the increasing efficiency, as well as the fighting spirit, of her fliers.

TOO MANY SHIPS?

By the end of 1944 the United States will have 35,000,000 to 40,000,000 tons of merchant shipping, compared to only 8,000,000 tons before the war, and there will be little if any shipbuilding in this country unless the war should last longer than expected by most persons. At present 1,500,000 men are employed in building ships and they will have no alternative but to return to other occupations after the war.

Unless enemy submarine warfare stages an unexpected resurgence, the United States may have more ships than cargoes within another year. In that event there will be no more need for merchant ship construction.

As for postwar prospects of using all of this tremendous fleet of cargo carriers, it is pointed out that 50 percent of British tonnage will be of medium fast vessels. The United States will have at least 75 percent of the fleet made up of the slow Liberty ships of ten or eleven knots, with the remaining 25 percent made up of fairly modern mixed cargo and passenger vessels capable of seventeen or eighteen knots.

Even though the United States should have double its former peacetime tonnage in actual use after the war, the situation would still not be favorable for future shipbuilding.

BATTLE OF RESERVES

In Russia it has become a battle of reserves, with the odds on the side of the Red armies. Owing to the nature of the warfare both sides are suffering approximately equal losses in men. And the Russians have more men available on one front than the Nazis have on two fronts.

Ordinarily the attacker—in this case Russia—would be at a disadvantage in losses. But Hitler cannot defend himself by standing still. Russia's outflanking strategy makes this impossible. The Nazis have been launching constant counter-attacks to slow Russia's progress while they attempted to form a stable line somewhere in the rear. This is good defensive strategy when it works, but it is not working for the Nazis and is costly in terms of manpower.

Hitler could fight a rear guard action, while surrendering space for time, as the Russians did to their advantage in 1941 and 1942, he could conserve his strength for a later test. But Hitler has little or no space to surrender for time. Every mile he retreats intensifies the strain in the Balkans, forces lower the morale of the German people and leaves more indefensible his cities from bomber attacks.

It is a desperate situation for the Nazis as their reserves melt away in what Berlin communiques describe as the most ferocious fighting in all history. Germany may be calling now upon the last of its forces not immediately engaged. If so, it is all the worse for the aggressors.

The Nazis being called up, according to eyewitness accounts, would rather go anywhere than the eastern front. It is a mental state that augurs well for continued Russian success.

A publicist advises us not to forget that Russia started fighting Germany months before we did. Quite true and it is also a fact that Germany attacked Russia just that long before she attacked us.

As Washington announces, no new rationing books will be issued for ninety-two weeks; this should give everybody ample time to get well acquainted with No. 4.

It hardly seems fair to announce those enormous Hollywood incomes without explaining that the politicians took more than 75 percent of the total.

If the fellow arguing politics on the street corner agrees with you he is a pretty smart boy. If he doesn't agree with you he is a demagogue.

Secrets of cosmic rays are being studied by scientists, but what the OPA will do about them when they are revealed is not disclosed.

The Ukraine is rapidly taking on an American hue. The Moscow Reds are in White Russia chasing the Blue Nazis.

Remember the old days when we used to stay off the main highways on Sunday on account of the heavy traffic?

MOST TEACHERS MAKE GOOD PARENTS

"DEAR Dr. Myers—The timely appearance of your article, 'Don't Spoil War Orphans,' was a life saver. My husband is soon to be inducted and I am being criticized because I've chosen to take care of our baby son rather than return to teaching school when there is such a shortage of teachers. Since your word is law around here, I'm being spared a lot of bickering which is indeed nerve-wrecking at this depressing time. You have saved me many arguments and I am deeply indebted."

"I wonder if you could tell me why the statement: 'teachers make the worst mothers,' is so often heard. It may seem like a trivial problem but it is quite annoying when said to a teacher-mother who is devoting her life to her family. I have no ready defense; can't think of a thing that's courteous, to say. Many of my friends are faced with the same problem. What can I say, Dr. Myers? A self-addressed stamped envelope is enclosed."

Answer to Problem
You have chosen the "better part." I wish more mothers whose husbands are being called would emulate you. Except for sheer necessities, especially of proper diet, the child under fourteen or fifteen needs nothing quite so much as to have his mother's companionship and personal guidance.

When anyone twits you about some teachers being poor mothers, say nothing at all. Be too proud "to fight" with them. Just make up your mind that your pudding is going to be good to eat, that they will discover in due time they are dead wrong. They are indeed, about most teachers. Most teacher-mothers of my acquaintance have been exceptionally good parents, and Mrs. Myers and I have been able to observe them and learn about them in various parts of the United States.

Successful Parents
Parents who have been teachers, like parents who are ministers, have very much to expect of them, that is, occasionally a child of either group is a problem, this fact stands out, and some other parents seem to enjoy satisfaction over it. The overwhelming majority of exceptionally fine children of clergymen and teachers invoke no particular notice or comment.

An occasional preacher or teacher-parent, over-sensitive to popular expectation and criticism, may become over-protective of the child in certain matters, even against his better judgment. When his child strays a bit from the straight and narrow way, say at ten or fifteen, he may be reminded constantly that "being our child, you know what is expected of you."

Usually very successful in good habit training in the child's early years, the teacher-parent may put too much trust in this success and too slowly shift the child to his own responsibility for choices and decisions he properly could make. To the other extreme, there are a few teacher-parents who because they were very successful at managing children in groups at school, without resort to punishment, have supposed that they should get like rest at home, assuming that the tot never should be spanked. Then before they know it they may have lost control. Nevertheless, most parents who have been teachers are the very best parents.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

Time was we thought, his christening gown.
The prettiest bit of dress in town.
Devoted fingers, to and fro.
Had worked the dainty seams to sew.

And edged it all with lovely lace.
Most fitting for God's holy place.
Next came, as old enough he grew.
A knickerbocker suit of blue.
A little blouse and collar white.
For symbols of his mother's pride.
For thus her hope was oft expressed:
"I want him always nicely dressed!"

His first tuxedo followed soon.
For graduation time in June.
And proud were we, I must confess.
To see our boy in such a dress.
His mother whispered with delight:
"How very nice he looks tonight!"

The other day from camp he came.
His head held high, his eyes aflame.
Shouting in answer to our stare:
"The finest suit a man can wear!"
In uniform from foot to head.
"How nice you look!" his mother said.

Hints On Etiquette

If you have a habit of saying, "See what I mean?" "you know," etc., interspersed in your conversation, stop it. It may be most annoying, and seems to imply that your listener is stupid.

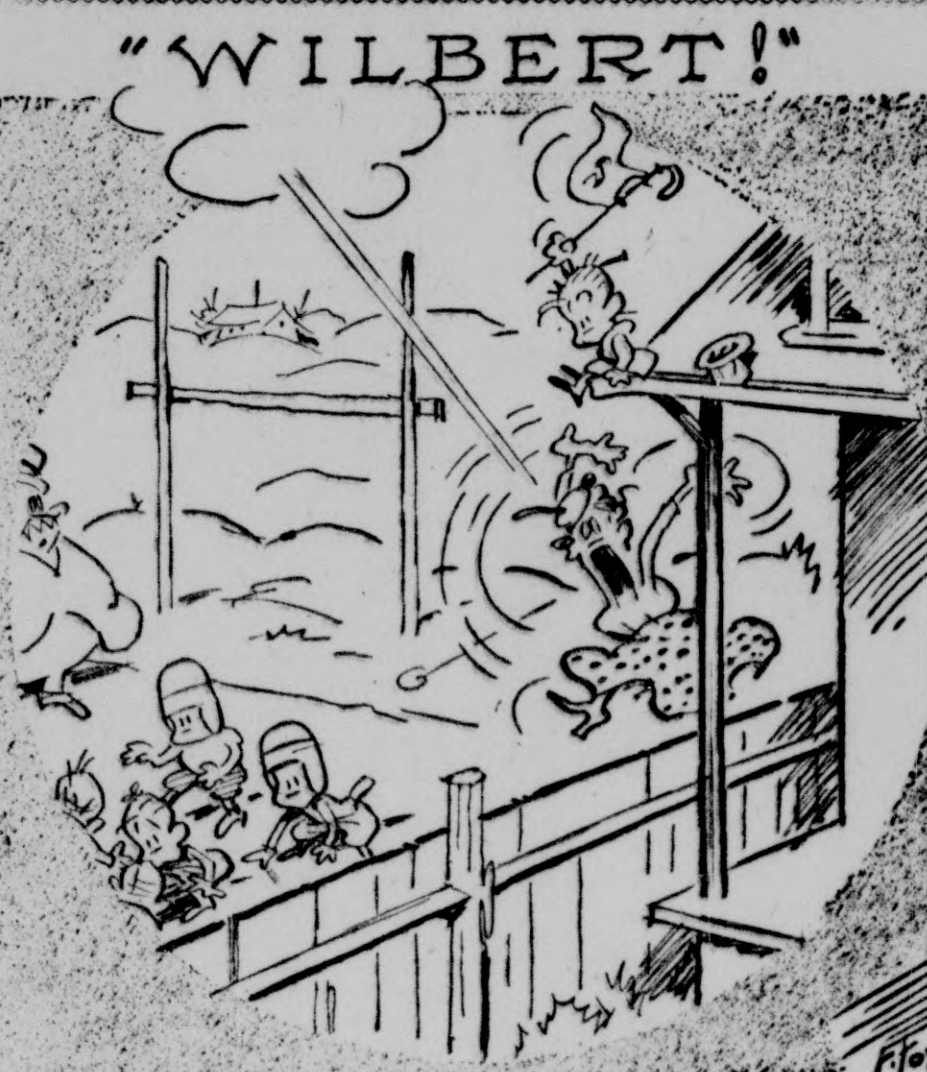

Dr. Walter E. Spark, New York University professor of economics: "We should consider whether some of our programs to save people from want and fear do not overlook the fact that fear and dread of want are two of the greatest stimulants of human activity."

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of Massachusetts: "Our present news censorship as I saw it at the front enrages and disillusions our fighting men in the truthfulness of their leaders, and at home it breeds apathy."

Give Mrs. Roosevelt praise when she earns it. She says "different from" instead of the new-fashioned "different than."

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 5:57. Sun rises tomorrow 7:31.

Now we are told that gasoline will be made out of coal. Lots of birds will make gas out of coal if they can get the coal.

Now I wonder, would the new 24 hour workweek law solve the problem of absenteeism?

Now we are told that the new giraffe will hold its shape. Wonder what that is?

When you are eating fairly good food in this country, give a thought to the millions of women and children who are starving in foreign countries. That's enough to make us sacrifice and fight.

Lots of us are learning that a long Sunday's rest in bed at home—if you can get it—is just as good as a week's rest in a strange bed a thousand miles away.

Harking back over our checkered economic past, who now remembers the delicious food surpluses of other days which ruined us as we ate them up?

There are some organizations in this country that will not be popular with the service men when they come back.

Hi Hum tells us that he answered an ad for advice to keep down his gas bill and he got a paperweight by return mail.

A man out west has written so many rubber checks that he has decided to contribute them to the salvage collector for rubber.

And then there was the little boy who asked his Daddy, "Was Mr. Roosevelt president when you were a little boy?"

A lot of birds would now like to see the ammunition passed.

No choir director should have any difficulty getting singers if he announced his choir is organized for the purpose of singing at the funeral of Hitler, II Duce and Hirohito.

According to a postman, anything you are ashamed to have the postman read is first class mail.

HOW TO KEEP THE 35 MILE LIMIT

One way to punish speeders which would eliminate a lot of detail and red tape for the police department but which wouldn't be quite so profitable would be for the traffic cop to shoulder the speeder over onto a side road where his car will be out of the way. Then, without any bickering or arguing with the driver, just quickly let the air out of all four tires, tip his hat and leave.

And there you are, mister, with four flats, a red face and so mad you could pull up trees by the roots. But what care? You asked for it. You were speeding. Now punish yourself. No chance of any smart lawyer getting you out of it.

Get out and start pumping, speeder! Pump till your back breaks. Pump till the sweat drops off the end of your nose.

Speeders handled in this way would cut traffic accidents fifty per cent.

A highway is still a dangerous place to walk on.

In some places now ice cream parlors are classed about as saloons are. Too much rough stuff in them.

People who hide their money around their homes usually have reasons for regretting it. Some one is sure to find it sooner or later.

There seems to be a lot of opposition to the rationing of liquor in Pennsylvania. At least before Christmas.

CURIOUS CYNIC CANTS

Lady Luck is a romanticist... she usually falls in love with the fellow who has a job and who doesn't loaf on it.

Your reputation depends upon what people think of you, your character depends upon what you think of people.

The prize boy-head New Deal economist is the one who tried to get congress to make an appropriation to relieve people of having to pay any more income tax.

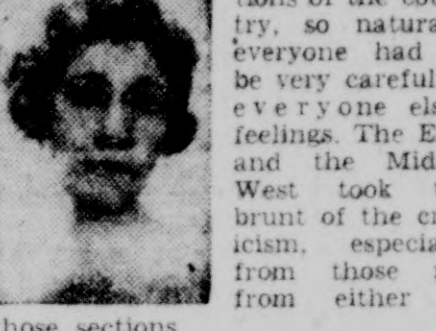

And if you are really honest with yourself, you will have to admit it really doesn't take a lot of brains to handle your job.

IMPORTANCE OF VOICE AND ACCENT

Recently at a party, someone discussed the importance of voice and accent in the gathering were people from various sections of the country, so naturally everyone had to be very careful of every one's feelings.

The East and the Middle West took the brunt of the criticism, especially from those not from either of those sections.

That discussion did something for me. It made me more conscious than ever before of voices and how they are used. I find myself studying them while going along the street or listening to the radio. My verdict is that a large number of Americans, regardless of their "home state" talk like parrots. Now don't argue with me. Just note, listen and learn. The sound, instead of coming from the back of the throat, emanates from the top of the head and courses down through the nose, making it possible to emit nasal, harsh sounds with only the slightest movement of the lips.

If you discover yourself talking in this unattractive way, simply drop your voice, and let it come from the back of your throat and form your words by the pronounced movement of the lips.

Of course, the nasal twang is easier—requires less effort to make a sound but if you have sensitive ears you will give up this slovenly way of speech and develop a more "throaty" and attractive voice. It can be done with perseverance.

Question: I noticed recently in a train that an enlisted man did not, when he came in, salute an officer seated nearby—although they both exchanged glances. Wasn't that incorrect?—Q.

Answer: In public conveyances and other places of public assembly, salutes are not exchanged. This is especially so when hats are off.

Tomorrow—Do Opposites Attract?
Big jobs are most always given to the men who can do them, and that is the place to put them.

The day we lose 35 bombers—cost $15,000,000—we must complete 35 more and graduate 350 highly-trained experts, or we are losing the air war.

Some people don't have to have a doctor to tell them to stay in bed.

It's all right to look ahead, but jobs that should be done now should not be neglected.

We are told that a bee's stinger is only one thirty-second of an inch long, but the other two feet are imagination.

A lot of people have found that they are not too old to learn a lot of things.

A young Air Cadet and his girl wishing to get married, went to a minister's house one evening just as he was ready to leave for his service. The preacher explained to them what he considered a way out of the difficulty.

You two come to the evening services, and at the close, come forward and I'll marry you.

They agreed to this and when the minister had completed his sermon, in order to give them the cue to come forward, announced, "All those desiring to be married come forward."

Thirteen women and the one Cadet started for the altar.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

At a "Fashion of the Times" show held in New York they displayed a very pretty assortment of men's aprons.

Some of 'em had ruffles around the edges, others were plain, but there was a nice assortment of colors.

Yes, men, aprons for men! "Why," I asked the fellow in charge of the display, "where do you expect to sell them?"

"For goodness' sake," said he, "do you want to get your shirt all splashed and your pants all dirty washing the dishes?"

"Doesn't your wife wear an apron around the house?"

So she does, so she does. And, by golly, after asking five or six fellows I found out that the time seems to be rapidly approaching when we fellows will really need aprons.

Most of the fellows are now helping their wives with dishes. They also seem to do some of the vacuum cleaning, although they were a bit sheepish about admitting it, and some of them mind the kids while the wives are out doing war work.

Aprons for men! Aprons, that practically used to be the emblem of womanhood!

"Mother's apron strings," you remember and "hiding behind a woman's apron."

Seems kind of whoops, my dear, and all that sort of thing—and still why should we feel so let down about it?

Women are wearing pants, aren't they. Women work in offices and plants. They serve in the army and navy and the marines.

They sit up at the bars and in the nightclubs, the gamble and fight and do practically everything we men thought we alone were privileged to do.

So why shouldn't we wear aprons? They help us, so why shouldn't we help them?

I can't see any particular disgrace in washing dishes—and the way I wash 'em, I certainly need an apron.

Slack 'em all up in the sink, turn on the hot water full blast, thus practically blasting them clean.

Leave 'em in the sink. The next morning they are dry. I hear my wife.

Maybe I'd better get a towel.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt, asking for subsidy appropriation for the British government, said: "I am sure that the Congress and the people feel that this expenditure of 500 million dollars per year is a moderate sum to pay in order to help accomplish the objectives which we have in mind—greater production and lower consumer prices—for a whole year."

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS. In the Southwest Pacific—Gen. Douglas MacArthur: "If the Jap fleet comes out I will welcome it. I would throw everything I have against it."

WASHINGTON—Sen. Edwin C. Johnson, D. Cal., advocating his resolution for post-war control of conquered Axis nations: "If the Atlantic charter means what it says and if our ideals of justice and freedom, which on every occasion we exploit and proclaim in loud voice, are not pure film-flam, then my resolution is in order and timely."

NEW YORK—Wendell Wilkie, advocating abolition of the 1939 British white paper which would bar Jewish immigration into Palestine: "The policy of the white paper mirrors the era of appeasement which gave it birth, and, as that philosophy has been discredited, so must the white paper be abrogated."

HEARING AIDS

It is a fine thing that hearing aids are becoming more common. They seem to be getting better too.

For a long time we have had spectacles to help people to see better. Now we have things to help people to hear better.

What we need is a name for these things. We call them ear phones and hearing aids and other names but there is no good one yet.

For awhile people were ashamed to wear them. Some people wear glasses just for style. Why not wear hearers for style too?

The old type of ear trumpet was not very handsome and was cumbersome.

These new gadgets are streamlined and look all right.

They are becoming so common nowadays that they are hardly noticeable.

If people were more careful about speaking clearly it would help the hard of hearing.

Believe U. S. British Unity Needs Pepping Up

Writer Believes Duke Of Windsor Could Assist Norwegian Diplomat Blunders In Recent Plea

By HELEN ESSARY
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—This town is simmering down these days. Not that there isn't something cooking in every front office in town.

But the kettles are boiling over as they did in the first frenzy of this second war to save democracy.

Fighting the enemy has lost its thrill. Stopping the Axis has become what it always was—a mean, long, hard job. We continue to zip about in the theatrical Washington way. But we realize now that the uniforms and the titles are simply another way of being dressed to kill—or be killed.

I don't mean to say that behind the routine of winning the war there isn't a powerful lot of going on. There is. Probably more than in the sputtering period.

For example, although the recent capital visit of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor was accompanied by little fanfare, yet many people are saying since they left, "Why not use the duke and his American wife as Anglo-American propaganda?"

Everybody who reads beyond the comic sheets knows that the relationship between the United States and Great Britain have struck their lowest level since the war began. Something must be done say the smart ones to help Britain and Americans like each other better.

How can we make these two English speaking allies understand each other?

In their own personalities, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor are the answer to these disturbing questions. The empire found the duke a good traveling salesman when he was the young Prince of Wales. The British government sent him everywhere a host or a railroad train reached, with order to "Sell Britain." He did sell Britain, cleverly and profitably.

Britain needs to be sold again—to the United States, this time. Mr. Churchill should dispatch the former king and his American wife on a "personal good will tour."

I found my own suspicious self thinking better of our lend-lease aid to Britain—after I had listened to the duke discuss the place of England and the United States in the postwar world. It's too bad the duke hasn't a better spot than Nassau in which to show his loyalty to his own country and his appreciation of America.

Besides, the hour has about struck for royalty of the old order. The Windsors are the new order. I repeat, why not use them?

Another international subject being talked about in the capital is the sudden effort of the small nations to make themselves heard.

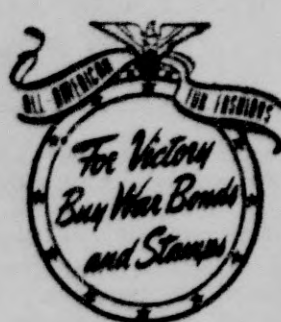

Naturally, the limelight is on Russia, the United States, England and China. The small nations do continue, meanwhile, to do the best they can to win the war.

Lately they've begun to demand attention from their big allies.

I do not think however that all their "How-About-Me" efforts are wise. Last week Norwegian Minister of Supply and Reconstruction Prihagen announced quite clearly that it is the duty of the United States and Britain (meaning, naturally, the duty of the American pocketbook) to reimburse Norway and the other occupied countries for the damage done by the German invaders.

Often by morning most of the misery of the cold is gone! Try it tonight.

When you see how VapoRub relieves distress of children's colds you should understand why it is the best-known home remedy of its kind in the world. It's just as good for grown-ups, too. Time-tested VICKS VAPORUB

COLD is a cinch for this Anti-Freeze that outlives HEAT

It's no "great shakes" for any anti-freeze to stand plenty of cold. But even the worst Winter seldom stays steadily cold. Ever so often the weather turns WARM.

And then what will happen?

Nothing much will happen to Super Pyro anti-freeze. Your correct fill of Super Pyro will naturally do its job of standing off any expected cold. And it will normally keep on doing that job for a good long time, because Super Pyro isn't overly weakened by HEAT.

Your engine is a heat engine. Every mile—in any weather—is a mile of heat. Each stop, as you can notice, actually boosts the engine heat. The warmer the day, the more hours of heat, because your engine more quickly reaches normal heat, and more steadily maintains its heat.

Then even if this turns out to be a "Russian Winter," it simply cannot get so cold but what your anti-freeze will still be up against all sorts of HEAT. That's why you'll want your anti-freeze to stand as much heat as possible. Otherwise the protection that you think you have, may be too far gone by the time you need it for safety from cold. This Winter, when repair men and parts are both scarce, get all the protection of Super Pyro anti-freeze. It's all the more cold-safe because it's so heat-safe...and besides, it's the enemy of rust. That's how Super Pyro can help you every which way to save your one and only car. You'll save anti-freeze money besides.

New York Cafe Society Secrets May Be Revealed

Sensational Promise To Bare Secret To Save Loneragan Is Made

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—(INS)—A sensational promise to bare the innermost secrets of New York's cafe society in an effort to save Wayne Loneragan from the electric chair was made today by one of the RCAF cadet's court-appointed lawyers.

The attorney, Edward V. Broderick, one of three appointed to defend the self-confessed slayer of pretty, 22-year-old Patricia Burton Loneragan, said he "was prepared to bring out all the details—even if it means parading all of cafe society to the witness stand."

Scheduled for their first conference with the lanky, athletic-looking Canadian, the defense indicated that their contention will be that Patricia Loneragan introduced her husband to the fast life of cafe society then suddenly shut him off from it.

Having tasted the life and gone money-mad as a result, the sudden deprivation of it drove him to the murder of his wife. That, Loneragan's counsel said, would be their story.

The husky, 26-year-old ex-life-guard was reported in the best of spirits in his Tombs prison cell.

World's Largest Flying Boat Is Ready For Tests

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 3.—(INS)—The Mars, world's largest flying boat, was being groomed today by the navy trial board for final tests preparatory to carrying men and materials to distant war theaters.

The mammoth plane was turned over to the navy yesterday by the Glenn L. Martin Company after exceeding by 50 per cent the international closed-circuit non-stop seaplane distance record by flying 4,600 miles equivalent to a flight from Baltimore to Berlin in 32 hours and 17 minutes.

In the preliminary test, the Mars also broke another record by taking off with a crew of 22 and a tank-car load of fuel aboard—a dead weight of 141,000 pounds.

New Jersey Voters Name Republican

Former U. S. Senator Walter E. Edge Is Elected As Governor Of State

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 3.—(INS)—New Jersey voters today elected a Republican governor and, in a referendum, authorized the state legislature to "stream-line" their century-old constitution.

Victorious in a bitter campaign regarded by observers as having national significance in foreshadowing trends in the 1944 presidential election, was former U. S. Senator Walter E. Edge, one-time ambassador to France. The 73-year-old Republican candidate defeated Democratic Mayor Vincent J. Murphy of Newark by an indicated margin of better than 80,000 votes.

In a sense, the election was a victory for Governor Charles Edison Democratic incumbent, who throughout his tenure of office conducted a vigorous campaign for constitutional reform. Although Edison, who did not seek re-election, campaigned for the Democratic state ticket, his support of Murphy was somewhat lukewarm because of the Newark mayor's failure to support revision of the constitution.

Edge polled a heavy vote in the southern counties of the state and other outlying sections, running at one time as much as 120,000 ahead of Murphy. But solidly Democratic Hudson County, ruled by Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, turned in a heavy countering vote which cut down his lead considerably.

Shortly after 1 a. m., however, it became apparent that even the Hudson County would be insufficient to make up the difference and Murphy conceded the election to his opponent.

Report Uprising By Jap Internees

Relocation Center In California Reported Seized And Held For Several Hours

TULE LAKE, Calif., Nov. 3.—(INS)—Eight thousand Japanese internees, many brandishing knives and heavy clubs, seized and held the Tule Lake relocation center last Monday for four and a half hours, the San Francisco Examiner stated today.

Quoting an eyewitness to the uprising who himself was threatened with death as he attempted to make a telephone call, the observer said the Japs converged in the administration area by the thousands, demanding, among other things, more meat in their diet.

Held prisoners during the uprising were three other civilians on business inside the camp, as well as Dillon Myer, national director of the war relocation authority, (WRA); Robert Cozzens, of San Francisco, regional director of the WRA, an army lieutenant, and the camp's civilian personnel.

Dr. Reece M. Pedicord, chief surgeon of the Project hospital, was knocked down and beaten by half a dozen Japs as he attempted to minister to a critically sick patient.

During the outbreak, the Examiner stated, an army protective unit, located beyond a high wire fence, warmed up several tanks and armored cars. They also set up a dozen machine gun emplacements and awaited word to clear the area of the seething mob. They were not called, however, as the Japs finally quieted down.

The WRA office in San Francisco repeatedly denied that there had been any outbreak, according to the Examiner, and said that all reports of trouble were the work of deliberate subversive work by German agents.

Cozzens denied that there had been any knives or clubs in evidence or that he or Myer acceded to any demands of the group. He did say, however, that the internees had demanded more meat and that Dr. Pedicord had been beaten while on duty.

Democrat Leads In Kentucky Race

Counting Of Ballots Slow — Early Returns Come From Urban Areas

FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 3.—(INS)—J. Lyter Donaldson, Democratic candidate for governor, held a small lead in incomplete returns today over his Republican opponent, Simeon S. Willis, former judge of the state court of appeals.

Counting of ballots from yesterday's election was slow, particularly in the farm and hill country, from which returns often are two or three days late.

Incomplete returns in 1,150 of the state's 4,293 precincts gave Donaldson 81,745 votes and Willis 75,388.

The great bulk of the early returns were from urban areas, including Louisville and Lexington which gave the Republicans hope that Willis might force ahead when the country district reports were in.

The Democratic campaign was waged on the issue of supporting the national administration, speakers reiterating that a Republican victory would be hailed as a repudiation of the new deal.

U. S. Sen. Albert W. Barkley, Democratic majority leader, returned to his home state to stress this point, declaring that Donaldson's defeat would be interpreted throughout the world as a repudiation of the Roosevelt program "in its entirety." Barkley's colleague Sen. A. B. Chandler, spoke in the same vein.

Willis confined his campaign to state issues, pledging himself to end "machine rule" in the state administration.

Bell Employees Hear Address

Vice President J. Frank Cox Talks About War And Postwar Problems

Handle every telephone call as quickly and carefully as if the whole outcome of the war depended on it. J. Frank Cox, vice president and general manager of the Bell Telephone Company, urged local telephone employees Tuesday night at the Scottish Rite Cathedral.

"We have no way of knowing the relative importance of the many local and toll calls handled," he pointed out, "but we do know that a great number of them are very important. The armed forces, and many others, have testified many times to the important and vital part telephone communications play in their scheme of things."

Mr. Cox spoke at a special "Telephone Get-Together" attended by approximately 375 telephone employees and members of their families. And also discussed postwar plans of the company.

Mr. Cox was accompanied from Pittsburgh by his staff which included Samuel E. Phillips, general commercial manager; David R. Truells, general plant manager; John C. Longstreth, general traffic manager; and John R. MacGregor, chief engineer. Kenneth H. Beck, district plant superintendent, was chairman.

Following Mr. Cox's talk, war movies "Victory In Sicily" and "The Life and Death of the Hornet" were shown. Other features of the program included music, dancing, and refreshments.

UPSET IN WILKES-BARRE

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Nov. 3.—(INS)—Con McCole, humorist and insurance executive, was the new mayor-elect of Wilkes-Barre today in Luzerne county's biggest election upset.

McCole was the only Democrat to win in the city or county.

We fight for ideals, but we'll "lose the peace" only because Big Business doesn't have any ideals except greed.

WE CAN HELP THE OTHER FELLOW!

Electricity itself cannot be saved or stored away. But any reduction you can safely make in your use of it, will reduce the amount of fuel burned to make it. That will mean fewer freight cars to haul it and fewer man hours to handle it. More cars and more men will be available for the war effort.

Each little bit that you save, multiplied by thousands of other Americans, will be an important contribution to the Voluntary Conservation Program.

War Newsmen Are Commended

Heroism Of American War
Correspondents Praised
By Secretary Knox

SAYS MANY TOO
EAGER FOR FRONT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—(INS)—The heroism of 112 American war correspondents accredited to the U. S. fleets and various sea frontiers was praised Tuesday by Secretary of the Navy Knox.

The secretary said the correspondents were "doing an unusual job" and at the same time he censured them kindly for being too anxious to get under fire.

"It is just as important for a correspondent to stay back so he can get the news as it is for a general to stay out of the front lines so he can direct battle operations," Knox said. "They are not sent out to fight but are sent out there to write."

The 112 total includes representatives of wire services, newspapers, magazines, radio and photographic agencies.

Knox said the number of correspondents killed on all theaters to date is estimated at 14 with an additional 4 reported as missing.

"One of the first casualties among correspondents was Jack Singer of International News Service, who was lost in the sinking of the U.S.S. Wasp," a memorandum issued by Knox stated.

Other correspondents aboard warships sunk in action included Allen Jackson, I.N.P., who was aboard the U.S.S. Helena.

Lt. Schweikert Is Decorated

Local Flyer Receives Distinguished Flying Cross For Extraordinary Feat

In a letter received by Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Schweikert, of 202 Bluff street, the parents of Lieut. Norbert C. Schweikert, local flying ace with the U. S. Air Forces in the South Pacific, from Lieut. Gen. M. P. Harmon, commanding, announcement was made by Gen. Harmon of the awarding of the Distinguished Flying Cross to Lieut. Schweikert for extraordinary achievement against the enemy, in the sinking of a Jap destroyer.

Lieut. Schweikert in recent letters to his parents reveals the fact that he has another Japanese ship to his credit, in addition to his other achievements in the air.

On October 12, he wrote that he had been out on a mission the night before and sighted four Jap ships. He made two runs over the target dropping eight bombs, and scored three hits on one of the vessels, a transport or cargo ship, 600 feet long.

The Japs shot his right wing gas tank out, but he landed at another field and after the damage had been repaired, he went back to his home base. None of the crew was injured, he stated. His crew was getting the air medal for this bit of work, he stated. General Harmon's letter is dated October 18, and is as follows:

"It is a great pleasure for me to inform you of the award of a Distinguished Flying Cross to your son, Lieut. Norbert C. Schweikert, for extraordinary achievement while participating in an aerial fight, as copilot of a medium bombardment airplane, on 20 July, 1943, in the Solomon Islands Area. While Lt. Schweikert was on a mission to locate and destroy enemy naval vessels, the target was sighted. Despite terrific and concentrated anti-aircraft fire from four enemy warships, his airplane dived from a height of 2,000 to 50 feet. Coming in at a speed of 300 miles per hour, his bomber released three 500-pound bombs, two of which were direct hits and the third a near miss. The target, a Japanese destroyer, was confirmed as sunk. Home address, 202 Bluff street, New Castle, Pa."

VISIT TO FRONT LINE IN ITALY DESCRIBED

In The Party
Our party included George Hicks, three networks commentators, and Jack Rice, cameraman. Lieut. Col. Ken Clark, former Washington correspondent and chief of public relations for Lieut. Gen. Mark Clark's Fifth Army, provided us with a jeep driven by Delmar Richardson, a former auto racing driver. All seemed serene and quiet as we crept to the front through long lines of supply cars and various transport cars.

We suddenly discovered that we had passed the point where we were to turn off for the headquarters of the division we were to visit. We retraced our way and through rocky roads made our way to the headquarters.

As a colonel there was filling us in on the situation and giving us his best advice as to where to go to see the most, the whistles of the raid watches started shrilling and there was a scattering for fox holes. It came rather suddenly. In what seemed seconds the air was filled with the crack of ack-ack guns. I looked around for a fox hole and the only one I could find was housing Rice, the "photographer" whom I had last seen in the Pacific. I charged him shouting, "move over fellow, you're got company."

See Bombing
Down the road not very far away we could see smoke rising from bombed sectors. It was all over in a matter of minutes but it seemed much longer.

Proceeding toward the point given us as the best place from which to see what was happening, we reached a town evacuated just a few hours before by the Jerries. Before leaving in the early morning hours they had bombed residences at a road junction. What populace there was left in the town was gathered around the ruins.

We had been held up at this point. Finally the military police permitted us to pass with a warning that the road ahead was being frequently shelled by German artillery. Tregaskis was insistent that I get a closeup view and so we proceeded without. I will admit, the wholehearted cooperation of his passengers.

Finally we reached a spot where we had to leave the jeep. The road ahead, we were told, had not been cleared of mines and booby traps and if we wanted to go ahead we would have to do so at our own risk. We went ahead on foot.

New Cemetery
As we rounded a bend in the road we suddenly came upon a recently made German cemetery. There were 20 graves marked with the names and rank of the dead and a 21st unfinished grave. It hadn't been half completed. Apparently Jerry had left in a hurry.

I thought then that we had seen enough, but Tregaskis insisted we move further up the road. We did and were rewarded with a view that permitted us to see where American artillery shells were dropping on German positions. We could see the bursts as German artillery blasted away at American positions entirely too close to where we were standing.

Finally and reluctantly Tregaskis was willing to turn back. We started for headquarters. As we sped down the road Jerry suddenly sent over a sizeable force of fighters and bombers. Military police ordered us off the road. We weren't moving fast as there didn't seem any hurry until suddenly 100 yards away, and coming like a bullet 50 feet off the ground, came a German plane spraying the road with his bullets. His targets were the vehicles in the road.

Dive Into Ditch
I dived one way into a ditch. Tregaskis right and Hicks to the other side. It was all over in seconds. The plane had sprayed the roadside with bullets, the tracers showing plainly where his bullets were going and they were uncomfortably close.

When the fire had passed we all came out to find that among them near us were a dozen more German prisoners. They were being taken to headquarters and their guards had allowed them to leave the trucks and had given them a chance to hide in ditches. They weren't anxious as so many were reported as being.

We continued on convinced that we had seen and experienced everything, but a short time later came the raid on Naples and we were treated to a fireworks display that was thrilling to see.

The impressive fact that stays with one after such a day is that the Allies are steadily and determinedly moving forward. The progress is admittedly slow. Jerry leaves enough behind at every point to fight a stubborn rearward action, but slowly and surely he is being forced back.

P. S. Tregaskis has just invited me to go with him on a trip tomorrow, the last five miles of which we probably would have to walk up and over mountains. I am declining.

The longest continuous speech in the Senate was in 1915 in regard to the Ship Purchase Bill, when Senator Smoot talked for 11 hours and 25 minutes.

DISTRICT MINERS FAIL TO RETURN

Await Word Of Lewis Rather Than Heed Plea Of President

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 3.—(INS)—Some 250,000 soft coal diggers in the gigantic western Pennsylvania-West Virginia fields today chose to await word from their UMW leaders in Washington rather than heed the exhortations of President Roosevelt to return to work.

And while the miners "stood by, the nation's vital steel mills began curtailing operations. Caught for the fourth time in the argument on the portal-to-portal pay demanded by the United Mine Workers of America, steel operators reported their "reserves" of coal are practically non-existent. For months they pointed out, they have been going on a "hand-to-mouth" basis because the previous "holidays" had so depleted their stocks.

The Pittsburgh district's operations for steel this week had been set at 103 per cent of rated capacity. But this figure was rudely jolted as some of the nation's largest producers began cutting their operations to make what coal they have on hand last as long as possible.

It was estimated that coal production lost in the western Pennsylvania area alone amounts to more than 1,650,000 tons.

C. I. O. Resolution Urges Subsidies

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3.—(INS)—The C. I. O. today strengthened its drive for a new program of national economic stabilization by passing a resolution urging a system of subsidies to increase the income of farmers and the production of food.

The resolution, termed by C. I. O. President Philip Murray a "compensation resolution" to yesterday's measures attacking the administration's present national wage policy and the battle steel formula, linked the farmers with the workers.

DENY MEXICANS ARE FIGHTING IN ITALY

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 3.—(INS)—Reports that Mexican army units are fighting overseas were branded false today. The Swiss and Cairo radios erroneously reported Mexican detachments were fighting in Italy.

It is true, however, that some individual Mexicans, as well as some residents of southwestern American states who are of Mexican extraction, are known to be fighting as members of the Allied Fifth Army.

See Dewey As F. D. R. Opponent

Election Results Indicate New York Governor As Likely Candidate

REPUBLICANS ARE JUBILANT TODAY

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—(INS)—Political observers in Washington leaned toward the opinion today that President Franklin D. Roosevelt will oppose Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York in the 1944 presidential election as a result of yesterday's balloting.

Sweeping Republican victories along the Atlantic seaboard following Democrats' loss of the agricultural midwest, observers say, indicates the Democrats will run their No. 1 man next year no matter where they stood on the third term three years ago.

The Republicans, meanwhile, can be expected to offer their No. 1 man, Dewey, despite his public announcement that he would serve out his four year term as governor of New York. Observers believed the Republicans will nominate Dewey because their party has always nominated a Republican governor of New York when the Democrats held national power over a number of years.

The Republicans were jubilant over Tuesday's elections. They won a Republican lieutenant governorship in New York, a governorship in New Jersey, a majority in Philadelphia, the key city of Pennsylvania, and ran the Democrats into the ground in Kentucky, they also won a score of mayoralty

HARTFORD ELECTS G. O. P. CANDIDATE

Democratic Incumbent Is Defeated—First G. O. P. Victory In Eight Years

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 3.—(INS)—Hartford went Republican for the first time in eight years today when State Senator William H. Mortensen, defeated the incumbent Democratic Mayor Dennis P. O'Connor by a margin of more than 2,000 votes.

In Bridgeport, the incumbent Socialist Mayor Jasper McLevy held an easy victory over his democratic and republican opponents and thus became the city's first mayor to serve six terms.

The democratic incumbent mayor of New Haven succeeded himself for a seventh term, defeating Rep. August M. Fraser, who lost by some 2,300 votes.

Democrats likewise were victorious in Waterbury where Mayor John S. Monagan defeated John J. Kearney, republican by a margin of 4,000 votes. The city has been democratic for the past 22 years.

Stan Musial Voted Most Valuable In National League

Donora Star Second Player To Win Honor In Sophomore Year

Cardinal Outfielder Polls 267 Points Out Of 336; Walker Cooper Second

PIRATES' SEWELL SIXTH ON LIST

By LAWTON CARVER

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—(INS)—Stan Musial, St. Louis Cardinal rightfielder, is the National League's most valuable player for 1943 and the first to win the award as a sophomore under the present system of selection which was started in 1930. He is the second player thus honored going two decades into the past, back to 1924, when most valuable player recognition first bestowed with official sanction.

Only Paul Waner, outfielder of the 1927 pennant-winning Pittsburgh Pirates, ever splashed to the then lucrative distinction of being named the best in his second year as a major leaguer, until the 22-year-old slugger from Donora, Pa., did it this past season.

In Waner's day a check for $1,000 accompanied the honor at that time, but the league itself, Musial will get a plaque from the Baseball Writers association, which since 1930 has selected the recipient through balloting among its members.

League's Batting King

Major league batting champion last season and a vital link of machinery in the Cardinals' runaway to the National League pennant, Musial took top honors over his backstopping teammate, Walker Cooper. Thus for the second year in a row the Cards had the winner and the runnerup. In 1942 Pitcher Mort Cooper, brother of Walker Cooper, finished ahead of Outfielder Enos Slaughter.

Musial polled a total of 267 points out of a possible 336, and received 13 of the 24 first place votes.

Walker Cooper received five first place votes and 192 points, while Bill Nicholson, Chicago Cubs' outfielder, finished third with a like number of first place votes and 181 points. The only other first place vote went to Pitcher Clyde Shoun, of the Cincinnati Reds, who finished well back in points.

Besides Musial, Walker Cooper and Nicholson, the first 10 in order is made up of Billy Herman, Brooklyn; Mort Cooper, Cards; Truett Sewell, Pittsburgh; Elmer Riddle, Cincinnati; Bob Elliott, Pittsburgh; Frank McCormick, Cincinnati, and Shoun.

A batting average last season of .357 clinched the top honor for the (Continued On Page Thirteen)

Penn Gridders Seek 15th Win Over Navy Team

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3.—(INS)—Penn's powerhouse continued practice sessions today upon scoring their first win over Navy in three years when they clash with the Midshipmen at Franklin Field Saturday. In a series dating back to 1888 and unbroken since 1927, Penn has won 14 games, Navy has won 11 contests and two have resulted in ties.

Fair or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER
INS Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Check back through the records and find an instance where any football player has inherited a tougher spot than the one that falls to John Lujack of Notre Dame.

Before 75,000 spectators packed into Yankee stadium for what may be the greatest gridiron encounter of the year he is going to take the place of Angelo Bertelli in the battle of T-formation. He is going to run the Notre Dame team and do the intricate ball-handling that is timed to a split second against an army eleven that is returning from a tie with Penn.

He will do much of the passing for Notre Dame, a little running, much defensive work, plus most of the thinking. He will do it in Notre Dame's biggest tussle to date, with a perfect record riding on the outcome of the things he does and doesn't do. The 18-year-old sophomore from Connellsville, Pa., will assume that burden without Bertelli on the bench to take over in case trouble befalls to engulf the Notre Dame.

Here is a shiny-faced little boy hop-scooting off on a giant's errand if there ever was one.

No Bertelli Passer

Notre Dame players have complete confidence in him, although he can't pass in the same league with Bertelli.

Lujack, the man of the moment, undoubtedly will be in Saturday's game from knee to gun, barring injury, and has been trained at length for just that spot. He has been a 60-minute man all along as understudy to Bertelli and Creighton Miller, the left halfback.

Aside from that he is just about where he has wanted to be ever since the day he left high school as a three-sports star, captain of the football team and an honor student.

He also turned down an appointment to West Point because he wanted to go to Notre Dame.

Well, the young man asked for it and he's got it.

ONLY FOUR OWLS CERTAIN STARTERS

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3.—(INS)—Only four Temple Owls today seemed certain of starting posts in the Holy Cross game at Worcester Saturday.

They are, John Kocsis and Mark Dolin, tackles; Francis Sirocky, guard; Andorge Hill, center. Coach Ray Morrison has been experimenting with starting lineups all week but is still in doubt as to his complete starting array.

'I AM HAPPY, LUCKY,' MUSIAL

DONORA, Pa., Nov. 3.—(INS)—Stan Musial today admitted he was both "happy and proud" to be named the most valuable player in the National League.

"I am very happy and proud to be voted the most valuable player," the St. Louis Cardinals' right fielder declared. "I had a feeling I might be lucky enough to be considered, but there are a lot of good players in our league who had the same chance."

N. D. Considers Bertelli Eligible For One Season

Claim Star Can Play Soon As War Ends; Star, However Eyes Pros

By DAVIS J. WALSH

(International News Service Sports Writer)
CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Now that it's over and we've all shed our share of saltine tears by way of giving the guy a fitting accolade, it can be stated with definite authority today that maybe that display of consummate artistry young Mr. Angelo Bertelli vouchsafed over in Cleveland won't be the last he'll present, after all, in the pooltable green uniform of Notre Dame.

As the matter stands, it is merely the last game he'll play for Notre Dame—this year.

He can come back and play next year, if the wars over. Or the following year, if the increasing cares of the middle 20's do not weigh too heavily upon him. It seems, however, that that's highly unlikely.

Notre Dame considers the young man still eligible for another year of college football.

Not College Football
It considers in fact—as we believe, a good many other collegiate authorities believe—that this is not college football at all we're getting reasonable in view of the fact that practically everybody's playing it except maybe Nick Altrock and Joe Boss. Anyhow, overtures have been made for Bertelli's return to South Bend, if the time-angle is at all plausible.

They say he will, too. But, from another source, we learn that, if the young star plays football again, it'll be with the pros.

The Chicago Bears, originators and developers of the "T" to its highest point of efficiency, quite naturally would be profoundly interested in the youth. But he is not for them, he'll go, via the draft, to either the army or navy, or to the league totem pole, Charles B. Dan Topping, of Brooklyn.

And don't for a moment think he won't go, either at least, as far as the league's legal machinery is concerned.

He'll be placed in the draft—war or no war—either at the December or April meetings.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Time to hunt squirrel is immediately before dawn, according to Mayor Charles E. Mayne who has hunted as often and in as many places of the nation as possibly any local citizen. During a small game talkfest Tuesday at city hall, his Honor recited tales of field and thicket, most of them of squirrel.

He said that a hunter should arrive before dawn, locate beneath a tree on which the hunter has from a lesson learned in advance, knows squirrels feed. He will be able to look up with a clearer vision than they down and it will not be long. His Mayorship stated, until he'll hear their chatter and hear them play.

The mayor said that some species of squirrel do not bury nuts, but are able to scent the location of a nut as deep as four inches beneath the snow. He has watched them climb part way up a trunk then dart from the trunk to the very place where a nut has been covered.

Squirrel like bitter nuts—and accents are a favorite "dish". They also like corn. He has also seen them remove the meat from a peach, tooth one half of a peach seed, shove their long tongue in, get out part of the seed, then tooth their way through the other side and get the remainder. They virtually make "peach-baskets".

One of the largest squirrels he has shot weighed 31 ounces. He weighed it on a grocer's scale. It was a squirrel. He says there are a lot of gray and fox squirrel here and some black squirrel in the Slippery Rock and Portersville section. Many black squirrel are to be found in Venango county.

Leaving the Mayor we met Lou Krueger of Walter street who is one man in a position today to prove our claim there are big North-eastern Pike in the Big Sandy (we having caught several nice ones there) over a period of several years.

Lou said that his son Jimmy, he and several others went through Sandy Lake to the Big Sandy a few days ago. They had some nice minnows and it was not very long until Frank Leahy has put together with the stampeding T-formation. But that brings us back to Bertelli.

Army Won't Be Easy For Irish

Minus Bertelli, Notre Dame Power May Be Gone; Kaydets Are Rough

By LAWTON CARVER

(International News Service Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The smoothest, most devastating Notre Dame football machine since the Knute Rockne era has wreaked such damage this season as to cause some of the best qualified observers to insist that it can't and won't be stopped.

They tell you this is it—the dream team that football coaches put together on paper throughout their lives only to find them always falling just a little short of all-conquering greatness. This is the team to make men forget all other teams.

Is that so? I wouldn't go so far as to predict flatly at the moment that Army will beat Notre Dame at Army stadium next Saturday. I wouldn't say that Army has equalled Notre Dame in physical equipment up to now. But before the Irish are established as such top-heavy favorites as to make the thing non-sensical, it should be pointed out that they have lost one Angelo Bertelli.

Army Could Win
Inasmuch as he undoubtedly has been the standout player of this season, and among the greatest in Notre Dame history, it just seems possible that Notre Dame's power is going to be decreased by so much through his absence that a real good army team, such as the one Red Blaik now has at West Point, is likely to score what everybody would accept as a tremendous upset.

He'll be placed in the draft—war or no war—either at the December or April meetings.

Notre Dame is on the spot now—if there can be such a thing as a spot for an eleven like the one (Continued On Page Thirteen)

New Castle-Ellwood Provide Action; Bessemer-Shenango Conclude Season Away

After last week's double-decked gridiron dish, local fans will have to be satisfied with a icy saucer full of the delicious pigskin game.

This time last week, localites were warming for the Shenango-Bessemer class B title or New Castle's setto with Clairton or both. Five days later, the grid stand tenders have little to offer.

N. C.-Ellwood Home
Aside from New Castle's class AA WPAL main go with Aliquippa beer on Friday night, and Ellwood City's farewell fling with Beaver Falls on Lincoln field of the localities will be compelled to travel if they crave additional football.

In the class B ranks, Shenango Township bows out of the picture by engaging Greenville high on the Mercer county lot Saturday. The Wildcats seek their fourth V compared to two deadlocks and a pair of setbacks.

Bessemer Away
Bessemer high concludes the campaign by tiffing with Girard high in the Ohio town on Friday. The Cementers, co-holders of the county title, will have a stiff test for the triumphs as against a pair of losses and three ties.

Ellwood's Wolverines date one of their most bitter rivals in a game which promises to be overworked with thrills. Beaver Falls turned the tables on Aliquippa last week and figures to be a stiff test for the courageous Ellwoodians.

Union township ended its season last week.

ELECTION RESULT IS MARKET SPUR

Good Buying Is Reported As Result Of Republican Victories At Polls

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—(INS)—Good buying on the Republican victory at the polls brought a stock market rally of fractions to more than one point in the morning but the advance failed to hold. Gains were pared or cancelled as the session progressed.

Liquors, farm equipments and chemicals—all prominent "peace" issues—were the early features.

Trading was moderately active.

Liquor shares continued to move widely, as American Distilling advanced over 4 points to a new 1943 high and Hiram Walker dropped over a point on profit taking. On the curb Brown Forman broke over 4 points on Vice President W. L. Lyons Brown Jr.'s declaration late Monday that the company is considering neither a merger nor a sale.

DuPont and J. I. Case were up 1 1/4 and 2 points, respectively, before the selling wiped out most of the gains. Westinghouse, U. S. Smelt- ing and Oliver Farm, however, managed to hold on to their gains of a point or more.

Steels turned fractionally lower on the coal strikes after a firm opening. International Nickel dropped over a point on news that the dividend rate may be reduced while Western Union declined over 2 points on profit taking.

The bond market was mixed in moderately active trading.

Group To Attend Joint Civic Meeting-Luncheon At Castleton, Nov. 10

Members of the Wolves club enjoyed their dinner-meeting, Tuesday evening at The Castleton at 6:30 o'clock, and following the members were shown an educational film on the history of the Morman church.

The showing was under the supervision of Elders, Edgar T. Rolapp of California and Grant Wadsworth of Panama, Nev. The film was well received, being instructive and entertaining.

Vice-President Paul Failla was in charge of the meeting. Charles DeCarbo introduced his guest, Matt Kolby.

At the director meeting, it was decided to increase the contribution of the United War Fund and Community Chest.

A. N. Carlson, secretary, extended the invitation to the club, to attend with the Kiwanis club, a joint civic meeting on Wednesday, November 10, at noon, for a luncheon-meeting at The Castleton, prominent speaker will be present.

On November 16 it was announced that the next meeting will entertain the ladies of the club as honored guests. Following routine matters, the Wolves continued their bowling sessions in their regular alley.

Eighth Ward Has Lively Contests
One of the New Castle wards that staged a good old fashioned local fight in the election on Tuesday was the Eighth ward. Two offices, constable and assessor, were up for election and apparently the voters forgot party lines, a Republican winning the constable's position and a Democrat the assessor.

For constable, Michael A. Ciavelli, Republican, defeated the Democratic incumbent, Michael "Jersey" Priscilla by a vote of 552 to 512. For assessor, John Seinkner Democrat, defeated A. T. Venditto by a vote of 599 to 476.

DR. T. A. SCHMIDT UNDER INDICTMENT
WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—(INS)—A federal grand jury in Washington today indicted Dr. Theodore A. Schmidt, native of Austria, who claims blood ties to European royalty, on a charge of being a Japanese agent.

The indictment specifically charges that Schmidt acted as an agent of the Japanese government from October, 1940, to December, 1941. It said that he relayed to the Japanese information about the American attitude towards the conquest of China as well as American opinion on war against the Japs and Nazis and progress of the U. S. oil of Cal.

GAS PLANT RESUMING
WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—(INS)—The War production board announced today that the Metropolitan-Edison Gas plant, in Easton, Pa., will be operating at 50 per cent capacity by Tuesday.

Work at the plant was totally disrupted 10 days ago when an explosion ripped through the plant, killing three persons.

Full service will be restored at the plant within another week, the WPB said, due to the efforts of the office of war utilities in moving machinery from nearby plants.

END DETROIT STRIKES
DETROIT, Nov. 3.—(INS)—Involving approximately 8,000 workers four Michigan strikes, three of them in Detroit, ended today.

Leading the back-to-work movement were 7,000 UAW-CIO employees of the Nash-Kelvinator plant in Lansing, which produces airplane propellers. The two-day walkout involved a dispute over disciplinary measures taken by the company against employees. The dispute was certified to the War Labor Board for settlement.

ARMY HAS TWO NEW ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUNS
DENVER, Nov. 3.—(INS)—The chief of the U. S. Army ordnance Maj. Gen. L. H. Campbell, disclosed today that the army has an anti-aircraft gun capable of shooting more than 11 miles into the air—twice the present ceiling for modern bombers.

Gen. Campbell identified the gun as a newly-developed 120-MM masterpiece. "The most beautiful thing I ever saw," he said it far exceeds Germany's much-publicized 88-MM, and added that the U. S. army has a second gun, the 90-MM, which also is better than the Nazi 88.

LIGHT VOTE IN STATE REVEALED

Indications About 50 Per Cent Of Vote Is Polled On Tuesday

HARRISBURG, Nov. 3.—Strict organizational voting was apparent today in the election returns which swept Republicans into office throughout most sections of Pennsylvania with comfortable majorities.

Balloting was light according to the returns and there were indications the statewide vote would not be much more than 50 per cent of the 4,551,400 voters eligible to participate in the general election. Little effort was made to turnout the so-called independent or "stay-at-home" vote.

Briefly, the Republicans captured an $18,000 a year superior court post for the next decade, won three of four special elections, overwhelmed opposition to their Philadelphia mayoralty candidate, won innumerable local offices but were unable to gain control of Allegheny and several other western counties.

In addition, the electorate approved a constitutional amendment which will authorize the general assembly to establish election district boundaries instead of the courts.

In the only statewide contest before the electorate, Judge Claude Trexler Reno, of Allentown, the Republican incumbent, was returned to the appellate court by a more than 300,000 vote victory over his Democratic opponent, Philadelphia Common Pleas Judge Curtis Bok.

Reno, former attorney general named to the high court by ex-Gov. Arthur H. James in December, 1942, to succeed the late Judge J. E. B. Cunningham, polled approximately 1,013,000 votes to Bok's 736,900 with 1859 election districts unreported.

Liberty Ship To Honor Brother Of Capt. F. G. Miller
GREENVILLE, Nov. 3.—Captain Francis G. Miller, commanding officer of Headquarters Detachment at Camp Reynolds, has been notified that a Liberty ship will be named in honor of his brother who was fatally injured in a plane crash about a year ago.

Captain Miller's brother, Ben H. Miller, had been serving as correspondent for the Baltimore Sun and the Washington Sun, and had been making an inspection tour of war plants when he was killed in a plane accident in Kansas.

The Maritime Commission recently announced that tribute will be paid to the memory of twelve prominent newspaper and radio correspondents through the naming of Liberty ships for them.

Another brother, Colonel Edward T. Miller, a World War I veteran, is a regimental commander of Camp Croft, S. C.

DEER FINDS THAT ALL'S WELL
WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—The navy's new Gruman Hellcat fighter plane "is in the 400-mile-an-hour speed class" and has a range of more than 1,500 miles.

Rehearsal For Allied Invasion

Reveal That Latest Invasion Methods Given Tryout Over Week-End

AMPHIBIAN CRAFT TESTS ARE CONDUCTED

By JOSEPH W. WILLICOMBE, JR.

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
HEADQUARTERS U. S. ARMY ASSAULT TRAINING CENTER, SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Nov. 3.—A rehearsal of the coming Allied invasion of German-occupied Europe was held here over the past week-end, authorities revealed today.

The very latest American invasion methods, and weapons hitherto on the secret list, were demonstrated for the first time to a number of high-ranking American Army and Navy officers who witnessed the "show."

Every conceivable type of amphibious craft was used to roll American troops up on the mined beach—a shore which was selected for this exercise because of its geographic similarity to German coastal positions.

A full battalion of U. S. water-borne troops staged the invasion preview, approaching from the sea and moving en masse as shock-troops to attack a heavily-fortified obstacle which simulated a Nazi position.

After their successful landing on the beach these troops fought their way inland to strike at a strong "hedgehog" position. They were under fire of live ammunition throughout.

Drop 120 Tons Of Bombs On Japanese Area At Haiphong

CHUNGKING, Nov. 3.—(INS)—American Liberators in three attacks during the last week today were revealed to have dropped 120 tons of bombs on the Jap-held Haiphong area.

New Record For Production Of Aircraft In U. S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—(INS)—Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the War Production Board, revealed today that aircraft production in October reached a new record of 8,362 planes—slightly higher than the rate of 100,000 planes a year set by President Roosevelt shortly after Pearl Harbor.

Nelson disclosed that the largest number of heavy bombers ever produced in a single month were made in October.

"We are encouraged by last month's showing," Nelson said. "Not only has the total number of planes accepted passed the 8,000-mark for the first time but the continuing emphasis on bigger and more powerful models, especially bombers is evident by the record total of four-motored bombers."
